On this day, the Court considered Plaintiff's ex parte application for the following: 1) a temporary restraining order; 2) an order restraining Defendants' Websites and Defendants' Assets with the Financial Institutions; 3) an order to show cause why a preliminary injunction should not issue; 4) an order authorizing bifurcated and alternative service; and 5) an order authorizing expedited discovery against Defendants, Third Party Service Providers and Financial Institutions in light of Defendants' intentional and willful offerings for sale and/or sales of Counterfeit Products.¹ Having reviewed the Application, Declarations of Michael Moore and Jason M. Drangel, along with exhibits attached thereto and other evidence submitted in support thereof, the Court makes the following findings of fact and conclusions of law:

FACTUAL FINDINGS & CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. Since at least as early as 1986, Plaintiff, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mattel, Inc—a leading designer, developer, marketer, manufacturer and distributor of well-known children's toys—has helped young girls discover their sense of self through the joy of play.

2. Plaintiff is well-known for its enormously popular and successful American Girl Products, which are a coveted line of dolls, books and doll accessories that are intended to teach girls important lessons about America's history and foster pride in the traditions of growing up as a female in America, and are marketed and sold under the American Girl Marks.

3. While Plaintiff has gained significant common law trademark and other rights in its American Girl Marks and American Girl Products through its use, advertising and promotion, Plaintiff has also protected its valuable trademark rights by obtaining federal trademark registrations.

4. For example, Plaintiff is the owner of the American Girl Registrations, some of which are incontestable, covering the American Girl Marks, including U.S. Trademark

¹ Where a defined term is referenced herein and not defined herein, the defined term should be understood as it is defined in the Glossary.

Registration Nos. 2,200,654 for “AMERICAN GIRL” for goods in Class 28; 5,242,074 for AmericanGirl for services in Class 35; 5,182,399 for AmericanGirl for goods in Class 28; 4,602,105 for  for goods in Class 28; 6,048,795 for “JOSS” for goods in Class 28; 4,709,256 for “JULIE ALBRIGHT” for goods in Class 28; 2,664,434 for “KAYA” for goods in Class 28; 4,909,555 for “MARYELLEN” for goods in Class 28; 5,101,208 for “MELODY ELLISON” for goods in Class 28; 3,677,824 for “REBECCA” for goods in Class 28; and 3,499,063 for “SAMANTHA PARKINGTON” for goods in Class 28.

5. The American Girl Marks are currently in use in commerce in connection with American Girl Products.

6. Defendants are manufacturing, importing, exporting, advertising, marketing, promoting, distributing, displaying, offering for sale and/or selling Counterfeit Product through Defendants’ Websites.

7. Defendants are using one or more of the American Girl Marks, or marks that are confusingly similar thereto, on Defendants’ Websites.

8. Defendants are not, nor have they ever been, authorized distributors or licensees of the American Girl Products. Neither Plaintiff, nor any of Plaintiff’s authorized agents, have consented to Defendants’ use of the American Girl Marks, nor has Plaintiff consented to Defendants’ use of marks that are confusingly similar to, identical to and constitute a counterfeiting or infringement of the American Girl Marks.

9. Plaintiff is likely to prevail on its Lanham Act claims at trial.

10. As a result of Defendants’ infringements, Plaintiff, as well as consumers, are likely to suffer immediate and irreparable losses, damages and injuries before Defendants can be heard in opposition, unless Plaintiff’s Application for ex parte relief is granted:

- a. Defendants have offered for sale and sold substandard Counterfeit Products that infringe the American Girl Marks;
- b. Plaintiff has well-founded fears that more Counterfeit Products will appear in the marketplace; that consumers may be misled, confused and disappointed by the quality of these Counterfeit Products, resulting in injury to Plaintiff's reputation and goodwill; and that Plaintiff may suffer loss of sales for its American Girl Products; and
- c. Plaintiff has well-founded fears that if it proceeds on notice to Defendants on this Application, Defendants will: (i) secret, conceal, destroy, alter, sell-off, transfer or otherwise dispose of or deal with Counterfeit Products or other goods that infringe the American Girl Marks, the means of obtaining or manufacturing such Counterfeit Products, and records relating thereto that are in their possession or under their control, (ii) inform their suppliers and others of Plaintiff's claims with the result being that those suppliers and others may also secret, conceal, sell-off or otherwise dispose of Counterfeit Products or other goods infringing the American Girl Marks, the means of obtaining or manufacturing such Counterfeit Products, and records relating thereto that are in their possession or under their control, (iii) secret, conceal, transfer or otherwise dispose of their ill-gotten proceeds from their sales of Counterfeit Products or other goods infringing the American Girl Marks and records relating thereto that are in their possession or under their control and/or (iv) change the host of Defendants' Websites and/or create new websites under new or different names and continue to offer for sale and sell Counterfeit Products with little to no consequence.

11. The balance of potential harm to Defendants of being prevented from continuing to profit from their illegal and infringing activities if a temporary restraining order is issued is far outweighed by the potential harm to Plaintiff, its business, the goodwill and reputation built up in and associated with the American Girl Marks and to its reputation if a temporary restraining order is not issued.

12. Public interest favors issuance of a temporary restraining order in order to protect Plaintiff's interests in and to its American Girl Marks, and to protect the public from being deceived and defrauded by Defendants' passing off of their substandard Counterfeit Products as American Girl Products.

13. Plaintiff has not publicized its request for a temporary restraining order in any way.

14. Service on Defendants via electronic means is reasonably calculated to result in proper notice to Defendants.

15. If Defendants are given notice of the Application, they are likely to secret, conceal, transfer or otherwise dispose of their ill-gotten proceeds from their sales of Counterfeit Products or other goods infringing the American Girl Marks. Therefore, good cause exists for granting Plaintiff's request for an asset restraining order. It typically takes the Financial Institutions a minimum of five (5) days after service of the Order to locate, attach and freeze Defendants' Assets and/or Defendants' Financial Accounts. As such, the Court allows enough time for Plaintiff to serve the Financial Institutions and Third Party Service Providers with this Order, and for the Financial Institutions and Third Party Service Providers to comply with the Paragraphs I(B)(1) through I(B)(2) and I(C)(1) through I(C)(2) of this Order, respectively, before requiring service on Defendants.

16. Similarly, if Defendants are given notice of the Application, they are likely to destroy, move, hide or otherwise make inaccessible to Plaintiff the records and documents relating to Defendants' manufacturing, importation, exportation, advertising, marketing, promotion, distribution, display, offering for sale and/or sale of Counterfeit Products. Therefore, Plaintiff has good cause to be granted expedited discovery.
